The Appraisers Confirmed --- Contesting Mr. Breckinridge's Seat-How the "Pensy" Was Downed.

In the House to-day Mr. Breckinglidge of Kentucky objected to the approval of the journal. The yeas and nays were ordered, and the journal was approvedyeas, 158; nays, 8. One hundred and twenty members were announced as

Mr. Owens of Obio stated that the colloquy which took place yesterday between Messrs. Cannon and Houk, during which some truths were told, was entirely omitted from the Record. He asked whether the Democrats could do the same thing.

The Speaker said he was unable to respond and the House then went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Peters of Kansas In the chair) on the Land Grant

Mr. Stockdale of Mississippi spoke In advecacy of the bill, referring to it as the best measure which could secure passage through the Senate.

THE RAUM MATTER. THE COMMITTEE ON BULES CONSIDERS,

AND THAT'S ALL. Several moons have clapsed since Representative Cooper of Indiana offered in the House a resolution calling for an investigation of General Raum, Commissioner of Pensions, 1t was referred to the Committee on Rules, and there it rested quietly in its peaceful pigeon-hole until last Friday. On that day it was drawn therefrom, and the committee began its formal consideration. They were compelled to this course by reason of the adverse comments on their course in ocketing it made upon the floor of the House and elsewhere.

Mr. Cooper appeared before the committee and exhibited a copy of the letter of Captain Lemon to Commissioner Raum, asking for a certain order or ruling; Raum's letter stating order or ruling; could not be made, and the order could not be made, and the order finally issued. This was substantially what Lemon had asked for. Mr. Cooper made a state-ment. The hour of 12 arrived, and, at the Speaker's suggestion, the committee adjourned until Monday.

When Monday came the committee falled to meet, though the Democratic members were present, as was Mr. The fighting was in consequence forced on the floor of the House yester day in the debate over the bill to in-crease the force of pension clerks. The result of this was a meeting of the Committee on Rules again this morning. Mr. Cooper again went before it. Mr. Reed suggested there was no connection between Lemon's letter and the order as issued. Mr. Cooper held there was a direct connec-He showed that when Lemon wrote his letter it was referred to Deputy Commissioner Lincoln, by whom the matter was investi-gated. He replied at length, showing it could not be done without working injustice to other claim agents than Lemon and to other clients than bis. This letter was approved by Commissioner Raum, and there the matter rested for more than a month. Then came the order in question, which gives substantially what Lemon asked to himself and other claim agents.

The committee took a recess at noon.

and then retired for further consulta ion. After an hour or so the word was finally given out that the committee had taken no action. No day was set for another meeting of the committee, as it only meets on the chairman's call.

TO DAY'S NOMINATIONS.

ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF NAVY AND TREASURY RESPECTIVELY. The President sent to the Senate to day the following nominations:

THE ATKINSON BILL. HOW SOME SLIGHTED NEWSPAPER HURT

An incident which contributed to the black-eye administered to the Atkinson biil relates to the recent Cape May excursion given by the Pennsylvania road to the press. Certain gentlemen were omitted from the list, and were in consequence angry. They determined to do a little quiet lobbying on their own account. They did so, and un-questionably helped hit the road yesterday. Those who went probably did nothing and tried to do nothing for the road. Those who felt aggreered tried to lajure the road, and unquestionably helped to do not helped to do so.

One thing is sure, the friends of the road have all along felt confident of its passage, and that was the general feeling of the House. The advocates of the bill were, therefore, as much chagrised as surprised at the defeat they met with. The extensive lobby employed perhaps hurt more than it helped.

Republican Footing. Senator McPherson of New Jersey has received a latter from a prominent Republican of his State, stating that, if petitions were wanted against the Force bill, they could be furnished in plenty from his State. The feeling in favor of the bill among the Republicans of the North is by no means unanimous. A remarkable instance of this is seen in the fact that the Republican corre-spondents of the press gallery are against it manufacously, with one possi-

Mr. Sawyer to day introduced in the Senate a bill to establish a limited post and telegraph service.

The Appraisers Confirmed, The Senate in secret session to-day confirmed nominations as follows: Charles H. Ham of Illinois, James H. Jewel of New York, George H. Sharps of New York, George C. Tichenor of the District of Columbia, J. S. B. Wil-kinson, Jr., members of the General Board of Appraisers, and Thomas K. Irwin postmaster, Carthage, Mo.

WILL JUDGE MONTGOMERY RESIGN

It Is Belleved He Contemplates Re-tiring and Resuming His Fractice,

There was considerable gossip among a number of prominent members of the Bar this afternoon over the contemplated resignation of Judge Martin V. Montgomery of the Circuit Court,

From what was learned by a Curric reporter it seems that Judge Mont-gomery has had several interviews with gomery has and several interviews with ex-Postmaster General Don M. Dickin-son and United States Senator McMil-ian, both of Michigan, and of which State Judge Montgomery is a native, concerning his resignation. He will, if he resigns, become associated with the law firm in Detroit of which Mr. Dickinson is a member, and which has a very large and lucrative practice. In case of Judge Montgomery resigning, Senator McMillan will recommend to President Harrison, as his successor. Robert E. Frazier of Detroit, Mr. Frazier is an able lawyer and eloquent speaker. It was he who nominated General Alger for the Presidency at the Republican convention at Chicago.

MORALITY IN THE G. P. O.,

Or, Rather, the Absence of It in Uncle Sam's Big Printery.

The following special from this city appears in the Louisville Courier Journal: "The Washington Capital says: 'If half the current reports be true, morals in the Government Printing Office are at a low ebb. The Treasury Department is the home of original innocence by comparison, and the Treasury Department has had suspicions cast upon its moral character for a long time. They say that one of the most responsible positions in the Government Printing Office is filled by a man who openly acknowledges that his wife keeps one of the most notorious resorts of immorality in Indian-

"Mattle Douglass is the name of the woman, and she is said to have been in Washington quite recently on a visit to her husband. The man, who received one of the first appointments made after Mr. Palmer became Public Printer, is said to be a special protege of President Harrison's, and the President, who takes such an interest in the man, cannot but know what seems to be a matter of comnon knowledge in Indianapolis,

The above never appeared in THE CAPITAL. It is understood to be the emanation of an erratic and irresponsible fellow, who occasionally does bungled work for the newspapers.

IN FEMALE APPAREL.

Henry Barbour Creates Merriment in the Police Court To-Day.

At 1 o'clock this morning Henry Barbour, colored, who was masquerading in female attire, was arrested by Eleventh street. He could give no satisfactory excuse for being dressed in this way, and the officers locked him up in the First Precinct charged with being a suspicious character.

In the Police Court this morning Barbour was unable to convince the Judge that he was attired in women's lothes for any proper purpose, and he ent him down for three months. Bar bour created much amusement by being brought into the dock dressed in the same garments he had on when ar-rested by the officers last night.

ANIMALS AND ANIMALS.

Trying to Find Out How Far They Respond to Notes, From the London Graphic,

A naturalist has begun a series of investigations in regard to the amount of appreciation shown by animals for music. He finds that sheep and pigeous are fond of the flute; pigs, oxen and cows attracted by instrumental combi-nations and dogs delighted with sleigh bells. Canaries generally respond to musical sound and hance have been known to stand listening in a field to the chanting of choristers. Scals are peculiarly susceptible and follow ships for many miles where a violin is dis-coursing.

The hippopotamus is visibly affected by the drum. "Squirreis are not eary fascinated, but actually spellbound by the music box or guitar." Alligators and byenas are either insenable or frightened by experiments, and as yet tradition only can settle the taste of a wolf. A Scotch bagpiper, according to an old legend, was traveling in Ireland one evening when a wolf came upon him. He was obliged to open his wallet and supply him with the whole stock of his provisions, after which he made his open shirt. "This the monster no sconer heard than he took to the mountains. "Aye," said the piper, "had I know your humor you should have known your humor you should have had your music before your supper." Tradition, however, would require in this case to be corrected by further ex-

HYPNOTIZED YANKEES,

Coroner Messemer Astonishes Them and Has a Lot of Fun.
From the New Riven Register.

Coroner M. J. B. Messemer of New York, who has been visiting in this city for several weeks, returned home to-day to complete his preparations for attending the International Medical Congress at Berlin. Since the publication last week of Dr. Messemer's power of hypnotizing he has received a number of letters from physicians in this city asking a demonstration of these ing a demonstration of these powers, and a few evenings ago he held a private seance, at which only physicians and a few personal friends assisted. The success of Dr. Messemer was remarkable, and the feats he accomplished left no doubt in the minds of the physiclass who attended that he possesses the power of hypnotizing. Dr. Messemer took as his first subject a young lady who knows nothing what ever of medical science, and in a few moments he succeeded in placing her under his influence. Then he called out a gentleman from the party. He placed one of the young lady's hands on the gentleman's head and the other on his heart and then told her to give a diagnosis of his physical condition. This she proceeded to do in the most minute detail. When she had com-pleted the diagnosis Coroner Messener invited a couple of the physicians to diagnose the gentleman's condition They did so and were amused to learn that the young lady, while under hyp-notic fulluence, had made a correct diagnosis of the case. In order to better satisfy the physicians, a test was made on another gentleman in the party, and in this case also the young lady gave a correct diagnosis.

orrect diagnosis. Taking a German medical book. Dr. Messemer placed another young indy under the influence, hindfolded her, and at his dictation she read passages from the volume. The larly does not know a single word of the German lan-guage, but she read from the book as though she were familiar with the language.

Another young lady whose illuguistic talent is confined to English, was hypno-tized, and sang hymns in Latin, Franch, and German, pronouncing the words of and German, pronouncing the words of each language as correctly as a scholar could. The physicians present expressed great surprise at the power demonstrated by the Coroner. Dr. Mossemer told them that he had frequently utilized bypuotism in his practice, and had found it of much advantage. He said the only danger is that if may be used by unscrupulous persons for the accomplishment of evit. He intends to bring up a discussion of the mutter at the International Medical Congress.
